

Dear Reader,

MSMS is a residential high school for juniors and seniors located on the Mississippi University for Women campus in Columbus, Mississippi; so if you aren't interested in living away from home, you might as well stop reading this now and continue your non-MSMS life.

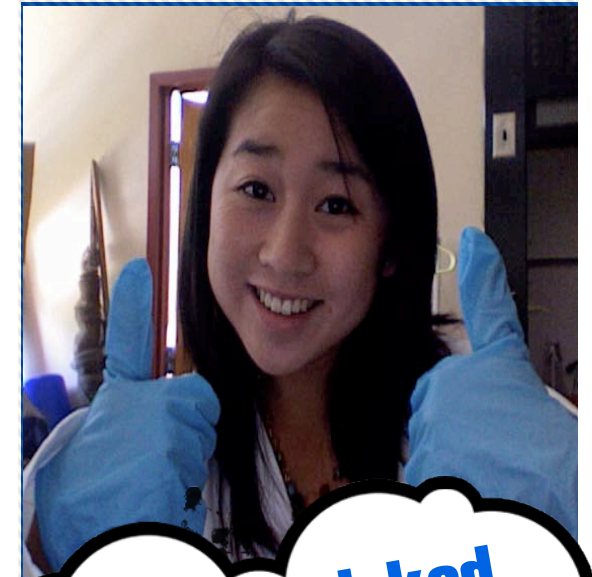

But if you are up to the challenge, then you have most certainly come to the right place.

MSMS is a big ball of sunshine!!

The Mississippi School for Mathematics and Science is one of the most intense educational experiences in Mississippi. You will receive the best education possible, and you will be pushed to get the most out of your classes.

MSMS offers a wide variety of courses ranging from microbiology to Calculus III, and even art classes such as sculpture and theatre.

You will never be left out at MSMS because we are a diverse group of individuals. So come join the family!

No, we're not mega nerds!

You have to have like a major high ACT score to get in!!

Not true. Standardized Test Scores are only part of the application process to MSMS. Several other things, like overall high school grades and extra curriculum activities, also help make you stand out when applying to MSMS.

You do absolutely nothing but school work and study all the time.

Super False! MSMS has over 30 different clubs and organizations like chess and debate. There is also a student government association and sports teams including tennis, soccer, swimming, cross country and many others. The dorm staff also plans events like horseback riding, canoeing, and paintball.
